FILM NIGHT: TIME Y2K

January 28, 2025

By Jennifer Miller and Gabriel Rhodes

January 28, 2025

HBO ORIGINAL
TIME BOMB
Y2K
THE END OF THE WORLD
AS WE KNEW IT
NEW DOCUMENTARY
STREAMING DEC 30
max

As the clock counted down to the 21st century, the world faced a potential technological disaster: a bug that could cause computers to misinterpret the year 2000 as 1900. Crafted entirely from archival footage and featuring first-hand accounts from computer experts, survivalists, scholars, militia groups, conservative Christians and pop icons, Time Bomb Y2K is a prescient and often humorous tale about the power and vulnerabilities of technology.

This documentary will be screened by Zoom on Thursday, Feb. 6th, at 7 p.m. Editor Katyann Gonzalez and producer Peter Nauffts, both Coop members, will be present for a Q&A after the screening.

Katyann Gonzalez is a film editor and assistant editor working across documentary and narrative films. Her work has screened at international film festivals including Sundance, New York Film Festival and Berlinale as well as on major streaming platforms like HBO and Netflix. She is currently working on a docuseries about the Alabama Crimson Tide football team for Fox.

Peter Nauffts is a New York-based archival researcher and producer. He has conducted archival research on shows for Apple, ESPN, HBO and PBS. He is currently working on a documentary about Sun Ra for Firelight Films.

JOIN VIA ZOOM MEETING:

- https://us02web.zoom.us/j/86444661891
- Meeting ID: 864 4466 1891

To be added to our email listserv for future screening announcements, please send a request to jlymiller@me.com.

Jennifer Miller and Gabriel Rhodes live in Brooklyn and have been Coop members for 20 years plus.

Editor’s note: This film was initially supposed to be screened in November but we moved to February.

FILM NIGHT: TIME Y2K

January 28, 2025

By Jennifer Miller and Gabriel Rhodes

HBO ORIGINAL
TIME BOMB
Y2K
THE END OF THE WORLD
AS WE KNEW IT
NEW DOCUMENTARY
STREAMING DEC 30
max

the clock counted down to the 21st century, the world faced a potential technological disaster: a bug that could cause computers to misinterpret the year 2000 as 1900. Crafted entirely from archival footage and featuring first-hand accounts from computer experts, survivalists, scholars, militia groups, conservative Christians and pop icons, Time Bomb Y2K is a prescient and often humorous tale about the power and vulnerabilities of technology.

This documentary will be screened by Zoom on Thursday, February 6th, at 7pm. Editor Katyann Gonzalez and producer Peter Nauffts, both Coop members, will be present for a Q&A after the screening.

Katyann Gonzalez is a film editor and assistant editor working across documentary and narrative films. Her work has screened at international film festivals including Sundance, New York Film Festival and Berlinale as well as on major streaming platforms like HBO and Netflix. She is currently working on a docuseries about the Alabama Crimson Tide football team for Fox.

Peter Nauffts is a New York-based archival researcher and producer. He has conducted archival research on shows for Apple, ESPN, HBO and PBS. He is currently working on a documentary about Sun Ra for Firelight Films.

JOIN VIA ZOOM MEETING:

- https://us02web.zoom.us/j/86444661891
- Meeting ID: 864 4466 1891

To be added to our email listserv for future screening announcements, please send a request to jlymiller@me.com.

Jennifer Miller and Gabriel Rhodes live in Brooklyn and have been Coop members for 20 years plus.

Editor’s note: The film was initially supposed to be screened in November.