FILM NIGHT: UNION (2024)

June 4, 2025

June 3, 2025

By Jennifer Miller

Union is an American documentary film directed by Brett Story and Stephen Maing. It follows former and current Amazon employees as they form the Amazon Labor Union and seek to unionize Amazon's JKF8 Warehouse in Staten Island.

This film will be screened via Zoom on Thursday, June 19, at 7 p.m. Union's associate editor Katyann Gonzalez will be present for a Q and A after the screening.

Gonzalez is an editor working across documentary, narrative, and branded Content. Currently, she is first assistant editor on director Lance Oppenheim’s new feature film for A24. She was a 2023–2024 Karen Schmeer Documentary Editing Fellow under the mentorship of Penelope Falk and Toby Shimin. She also volunteers with the Alliance of Documentary Editors as lead organizer for a harm accountability working group to resolve conflict among the membership through a transformative justice lens.

" AN ESSENTIAL DOCUMENT OF THE 21ST-CENTURY LABOR MOVEMENT"
SAM ADAMS, SLATE WINNER
sundance
New York Film Festival 62
"ASTOUNDING, REBELLIOUS... BRILLIANT."
ALISSA WILKINSON, THE NEW YORK TIMES
TRUE/FALSE FILM FEST
OFFICIAL SELECTION
hotdocs
2024
Sheffield DocFest
Visions du Réel 2024
UNION
A FILM BY BRETT STORY AND STEPHEN MAING

Join Zoom Meeting
Meeting ID: 89227152302

*To be added to our email listserve for future screening announcements, please send a request to jlymiller@me.com.

Film Night is looking for movies to screen! Calling all directors, producers, editors, cinematographers, and screenwriters: We are accepting submissions for films made or crewed by Coop members. Films of any length (features to shorts) and any genre will be considered for screening. If you'd like to submit a film, please send a link and a short synopsis to gabrielrhodes@me.com.